Snow—Again!

Another busy week of learning has taken place at Wilton and Barford as we gear up for our last week of the Spring term—where has the time gone?

Thank you everyone who made it in on Monday: the snow made it difficult but all the children had some really great learning opportunities in the snow!

Next week, we have parent consultations on Tuesday 27th and Wednesday 28th. You should by now have received your time slot.

There are still plenty of slots available; please do call the office to book an appointment if you have not already got a time.

Don't forget next week we have an Easter Egg hunt, run by our PTA, Monday after school. It is £1.50 to enter and will be a great event for children to get involved in. All children who enter will get an egg.

On Thursday next week, the whole school will be going to the Church for our Easter Service. You are very welcome to join us from 1430. All children will need picking up from the church at 1515. The mini bus will run as normal.

Have a great weekend,

Best Wishes,

Richard Boase
